The Rise of

Low & Non-Alcoholic Beverage Trends

The low & non-alcoholic category is no longer niche – it's a movement.

Fueled by wellness, moderation, and elevated flavor expectations:

- $1.3+ trillion current global value → $2 trillion by 2030
- $5 billion estimated U.S. market size by 2028
- 93% of non-alc buyers also drink alcohol — blending low, no, and full-proof by mood and moment
- Millennials & Gen Z are driving demand for premium, full-flavor, lower-ABV options

Category innovation spans zero-proof cocktails, premium non-alcoholic wines, and functional wellness beverages.

Our curated portfolio delivers full flavor, flexibility, and zero compromise — supporting mindful sipping, inclusive menus, and trend-forward hospitality.

Beverage type definitions

Non-Alcoholic - Never fermented and contain no alcohol. Non-drinkers ie; under 21, individuals who do not drink due to health or religious reasons.

Dealcoholized - Trace alcohol only - under 0.5 %. The amounts are similar to the traces of alcohol you can find in everyday household items like bananas, soy sauce, orange juice and even bread.

Pro Tip - Dealcoholized products should be sold similarly to NA Beer. If a restaurant or retail store checks ID before selling someone an NA beer, they should do the same for any dealcoholized beverage.

Low-Alcohol - Contain 5% alcohol by volume or less. Reflects evolving consumer preferences towards healthier, more balanced lifestyles.

DIGITAL ENGAGEMENT STRATEGY

Our Collaboration Philosophy

We are committed to amplifying your brand through strategic social media storytelling. Whether you are launching a seasonal menu, introducing new products to your beverage program, or hosting a signature event, we want to collaborate.

Our data shows that engagement is highest when we align our promotional materials and work together as digital partners to ensure your updates gain the visibility they deserve.

Best Practices:

- Strategic Lead Times: For major signature events, please contact our team 1–2 months in advance to ensure a synchronized social media strategy.
- Menu & Product Updates: For seasonal rollouts or new beverage additions, notify us as soon as your assets are ready—ideally two weeks before the month begins—to be featured in our "Monthly Event Preview"
- Asset Quality: Provide high-resolution graphics, updated menus, or professional photography to ensure your brand is represented with the highest quality.
- Digital Integration: Supply the specific account handles you would like us to tag or invite as official collaborators on your posts.
- Call to Action: For ticketed events or exclusive tastings, include all relevant booking links and pricing to streamline the guest experience.
